J. W. Bartlett, the leading jeweler of the city, is never behind the time. He has just unpacked a fine lot of ladies' watches. This is a novelty, as the Rockford company has just recently commenced the manufacture of this size, which contains all the elements of perfection for which the regular, reliable Rockford watch is celebrated.

J. M. Bernard has completed proof before Colonel Scott, United States agent for Indian depredation claims. In 1885 Mr. Bernard was merchandising where Judge Blanchard's store now is. He had been to the states, and was on his way back with merchandise and a number of fine teams. Near where Dodge City, Kansas, now is, he was set upon by the "poor Indians," and robbed of eighty fine American mules. Never till since the depredations have been in power has he had any hope of being re-embursed for his loss. It is to be hoped that Uncle Joe will be more successful in this case than he was in the matter of losses sustained in Kansas from Jim Lane and John Brown. The territorial government of Kansas allowed him $10,000 for his losses, and issued him bonds to that amount, and though "John Brown's body lies a mouldering in the tomb," and though it is generally understood that "his soul is marching on," Mr. Bernard has failed to find either principal or interest of those bonds marching into his pocket.

CITY COLLINGS.Deeds of the Day and Events of the Night.

Methodist Concert—East Side Park—Contented Tourist—And Other News—of News Plucked from the Fields of the Meadows City.

"A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever."

San Miguel park in the northern part of Las Vegas needs money to complete its decorations and to keep it in order. So says one whose property faces upon it. This is an astonishing assertion. That there should be lack of liberality toward this enterprise upon the part of any in all that section of the city, causes an outsider to pause in wonderment. There is absolutely nothing else which will so much add to the value of property in that part of the city, not to mention the comfort and pleasure of those who may dwell there. Let one go to Chicago, St. Louis or any city of the states, and property in the neighborhood of any such square as this little park can be made, will rent or sell for a large per cent. more than similar property elsewhere. With our advantages of water works, this park can be made a very gem of loveliness. Trees, flowers, grass, walks, in a few years and at a small expense, will render this part of the city so attractive and desirable, that the increased value of the property will compensate many times over for all which has been expended in accomplishing the work. Let our citizens in that part of the town realize the opportunity which is in their hands and let them at once contribute to make this park one of the lasting ornaments and attractions of Las Vegas.

California No Good.

Mr. A. C. Sloan had an extended trip through California, but he returns more in love than ever with the climate and country of our own New Mexico. He saw much good land on the other side of the mountains, but he saw also large scopes of country which for desolate barrenness surpass anything the most sterile regions of New Mexico can exhibit. That many of the residences of California are truly regal in their surroundings cannot be denied, but then large fortunes have been spent upon them. Let some man expend $500,000 or $500,000 upon house and grounds right here in Las Vegas, and we would have as handsome places as any in California upon which no more money has been spent. The unsuitableness of the climate for all pulmonary complaints, arises from the moisture with which it is loaded, causing in many cases a mold to gather on houses and even furniture. Another thing that disappointed Mr. Sloan was the tasteless character of the fruits. He tried strawberries over and over again, but they were destitute alike of color and flavor. When he complained of their want of ripeness, he was told that they might remain upon the vine till rotted, and still they would not differ from their then condition. Altogether Mr. Sloan was pleased to return to New Mexico, and has no wish whatever to leave it for California.

The Methodist Concert.

A large number of lovers of good music attended the concert at the Methodist church last night, rightly judging from the published programme that an enjoyable evening laid before them. Neither were they disappointed. Professor Miller presided at the organ and played the accompaniments in his well known style of excellence. Miss Jenny Rosenthal gave some instrumental music in an attractive way, while Messrs. Henry and Olney gave recitations, and Mrs. Hollenweger a reading, all to the approbation of the audience. Madames Gulick and Studebaker, Miss Tetard, and Messrs. Fonder, Browne and Robinson constituted the singers. Their various solos, duos, trios and quartettes were highly appreciated. These, with a quartette of boys, and a solo and chorus of girls, who all did well their parts, concluded the list of the performers. The audience went away well pleased with the evening entertainment, and the church was well satisfied with the amount of the receipts.

San Miguel County By-enge.

Mr. F. A. Manzaneros returned on Thursday evening from a trip to the range of the Trujillo Ranch company which is situated in the extreme eastern end of San Miguel county. Mr. Manzaneros says that though the loss in cattle throughout the county is great, his company has been fortunate in getting through the worst of the season with a comparatively slight loss. Rains have fallen to the east of Liberty in this county and in consequence that section's stock is faring much better than that of the Trujillo Ranch company. The line of demarcation between here and Liberty, which is the cause for the death of cattle in the backward season, but there is no use denying the fact that there are too many cattle upon the range for the grass produced in ordinary years.

Localities.

The Boston Clothing house has treated itself to a neat and convenient office.

J. W. Hopkinson has purchased of D. Colville, through A. A. & J. H. Wise, the lot lying between the Nag's Head saloon and Milligan's new block, Douglas avenue, for $735. A blacksmith shop stands at present on the premises. This will be removed.

Why isn't the street car track changed according to the programme announced weeks ago? property holders around the Plaza are growing weary of seeing the pleasing prospect of that park defaced by the piles of ties which have lain for weeks piled against the fence.

Lela B, one of the best short distance running mares, or horses in the territory, will be here in a few days, and her owner, Mr. Whitney, is ready to match her against any horse that can be brought to the coming fair. He will bar no horse that stands on legs.—Albuquerque Democrat.

The other night a lady bought a ticket for Romeroville, and boarded the train. The conductor did not get around, and as the train was not stopped at the place to which she wished to go, she was carried on to San Miguel, where she sat all night in the depot waiting for the train to bring her back.

On the 28th of April, one Ed. Kraemer, representing himself as traveling representative of the Trinidad Weekly

Advertiser, obtained from H. Hilgers, of our city, $1.75 for six months' subscription to that paper, with the promise that the paper would give a large advertisement to Mr. Hilgers' business. Up to the present moment Mr. Hilgers has received no copy of the paper, and has no reason to suppose the advertising contract has been kept. The question with Mr. Hilgers is not, "Where was Moses when the light went out?" but, "Who is Ed. Kraemer, and where can he now be found?"
